UPDATE: Fatal accident at Baralaba North Coal Mine Queensland

Golding sincerely regrets to advise that there has been an accident early this morning that fatally injured one of our staff at the Baralaba North Coal Mine located in the Bowen Basin, Queensland.

The family of the 27-year old deceased gentleman have asked for privacy while they come to terms with their loss. Our thoughts and deepest sympathies are with his partner, parents and work mates at this tragic time, and we are continuing to offer them support.

The gentleman was an experienced mining operator and had been working at the Baralaba North Coal Mine since December 2018, having previously worked for several years with Golding at another site.

Golding CEO Geoff Caton said that the company is continuing to work closely with the Police and the Mines Inspectors in conducting a full investigation into the accident.

Golding will provide further updates when possible.

All operations have been ceased at the mine until further notice.
